I got them! Ya U are right it is bad!

I will copy this all to Jill to see the pictures and go on this after I get in which will be after 11 Wed..Obviously they have more then they can care for and looks to not be caring for any? We will address it and I will let you know. I sure we will need your volunteers to help with the animals if they have a good place to stay. U know this is not a one day event, we will have to get a court order to take them unless they voluntarily surrender them which can happen with persuasion thanks for letting us know Michelle.

Talk to ya later.
